Motor Vehicle Inspectors Made 8 Arrests Here

Inspectors Charles M. Peterson and Lawrence Van Bergen Pay Visit to Kingston Wednesday Night—Arrests Made for Improper Auto Lights.

Motor Vehicle Inspectors Charles M. Peterson and Lawrence Van Bergen, who were busy in Catskill on Wednesday rounding up auto drivers who failed to comply with the state law regarding lights, dropped into Kingston that evening and made eight arrests on charge of failing to have proper lights on automobiles. Those arrested either had no tail lights or were operating the cars with only one headlight, according to the inspectors.

The eight men arrested were William Ford, Daniel J. Murphy, A. S. Brenner, Louis Strand, Meyer Osar, Frank Rockwell, Fisher C. Peter, and Morris Sauter.

The Murphy case was adjourned to next Tuesday morning. In the other seven cases Judge Harry E. Schrick stated that as they were all first offenders he would let them off with a suspended sentence.

Hereafter, the judge said, all others who are arrested for not having proper lights on their automobiles could not expect to get off as easily.

Joseph Young, 16 years old, was arrested on North Front street Wednesday afternoon by Officer Camp for driving without a license. In police court the boy explained that he and his brother, who has a license, to drive the car, live outside the city, and are employed in Kingston. The older brother drives the car, but that day the younger brother drove it, so the gas station to get some gas, Judge Schrick suspended sentence.

Baby May Solve Suicide Pact

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Boston, Feb. 26.—A baby born in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Miles, Jr., young couple who entered a suicide pact and are now in Massachusetts General hospital, suffering from poisoning, was being sought today by investigators from the office of the district attorney.

The baby was born when the Mileses lived in an expensive home in Newton. The attending physician said he was given to understand that the baby's mother was Mrs. Miles' maid. Four days ago the Mileses moved to a modest apartment in the West End here. The baby disappeared.

"We loved each other and wanted to die," is the only statement Mrs. Miles has made since she was found on the floor of her bedroom beside the unconscious husband. Both will recover. They will be questioned when their condition permits.

Miles was a student at Boston University law school. His mother was said to be living somewhere in New York state. Mrs. Miles was Dorothy Holbrook Houghton. Her nearest relative was said to be Dr. Raymond Houghton, of 1605 High street, Des Moines, Iowa. Miles is 23 years old. His wife is 26.

President Ebert Gravely Ill

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Berlin, Feb. 26.—President Ebert was reported in a "precarious" condition today as a result of his failure to rally after an operation for appendicitis.

A bulletin issued at the West End sanatorium, where the president was operated upon by Professor Bier, noted surgeon, said the patient had had a restless night and that his temperature had risen alarmingly.

The bulletin said localized gangrene of the appendix had set in, causing peritonitis, which, with a higher temperature, "renders his condition serious."

If President Ebert survives the day he has a chance to live, his physicians told International News Service this afternoon. His condition was critical, it was admitted.

Muscle Shoals Legislation Dead

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The death of all Muscle Shoals legislation in the Sixty-eighth Congress was conceded today by administration leaders.

They decided to abandon the proposed bill after learning that the bill's opponents have thoroughly outwitted a filibuster to block all further action in the senate. Fourteen senators are said to have pledged themselves to take five hours if necessary, making seventy hours consecutive talk, which would "talk" the filibuster bill to death.

Diversity Over Amendment

Governor and Republican Leaders Want Child Labor Amendment Submitted to Voters, While Both Party Members Want Immediate Ratification by Legislature.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, Feb. 26.—Despite all that was said for and against the proposed child labor amendment to the federal constitution at the recent hearing at the Capitol, Governor Smith and the Republican leaders are still determined the amendment shall be submitted to the voters before action is taken by the legislature. It was declared today.

Governor Smith, however, would like to have the amendment submitted to the voters at a special election next month. The Republican leaders are opposed to this and insist that it go before the people at the general election this fall.

While the G. O. P. leaders and the governor are certain to have their way, there are, however, a number of Republican and Democratic members of both the senate and assembly who are urging that the amendment be ratified immediately by the legislature.

One of the first resolutions introduced at the present session urging immediate ratification was sponsored by Assemblyman Moore, Republican of Westchester. In the upper house, Senator Straus, Democrat of New York, introduced a similar resolution at the same time calling upon both parties to keep the pledges made in their platforms last fall.

Some of those who are most active in the interest of immediate ratification of the amendment declare that if Governor Smith and the Republican leaders would "keep out of the discussion," they would be able to rally enough votes in both houses to pass the proposal at the present session.

"If this amendment is not ratified, the voters will have a right to believe that pledges made in platforms by the two major political parties mean nothing," said Senator Straus. "I intend to keep the promise I made before election, and do everything I can to bring about ratification of the amendment."

The charge made at the hearing that the child labor amendment "comes straight from Moscow," has stirred up the advocates of the proposal. Mrs. Edgar S. Shumway of Brooklyn, told the members of the judiciary committee that the proposal first had its inception in Moscow and that it was nothing more than an attempt to "nationalize the children of the United States."

Strangled to Death in Bed

George Bellingshoff Had Evidently Thrown Self Face Down in Bed and Head Became Caught in Springs—Sergeant Phinney Used Pliers to Free Body.

George Bellingshoff, aged 61 years, was found strangled to death in his bed in his room at No. 15 Mill street at 2:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Michael J. McNamus, who notified the police department and Coroner W. Norman Conner.

Sergeant Charles Phinney hurried to the house and found Bellingshoff stretched face downward in the bed. The mattress did not entirely cover the springs. Bellingshoff evidently had entered his room and thrown himself down on the bed, and as he did so his head became caught in the mesh of the wire bed springs.

The sergeant found it impossible to release the head without using pliers to enlarge the meshes of the springs. When the body was finally released it was found that there was a severe cut over the eye which had bled freely. Blood had also run out of the mouth, showing that the man had met death by strangulation.

An investigation of the room disclosed two bank books showing a bank balance of about $2,000. There was also about $15 in money in the dead man's pockets. He was fully dressed as he lay on the bed.

The dead man lived alone in the room and was last seen about the place Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Dr. John F. Larkin, who was called, stated that in his opinion the man had been dead about twenty hours. The body was turned over to Undertaker James Murphy.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 8:45 o'clock from the undertaking parlors, at 174 Broadway, and from St. Peter's Church at 9:20 o'clock, where a requiem Mass will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment in St. Peter's cemetery in this city.

Charge Borglum Broke Models

Warrants Issued for Sculptor and His Superintendent Following Dismissal by Commission—Wife Says They Were His Personal Property.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 26.—Models for carving the gigantic memorial to the Confederacy on the face of Stone Mountain, near here, and all studio data which had been compiled after months of toil, lay today in debris, wrecked, according to charges contained in warrants, by Cutzen Borglum, who yesterday was summarily discharged as sculptor for the memorial association.

The clay model of the head of General Robert E. Lee, was smashed, but his head already had been carved into the design.

Warrants were in the hands of DeKalb county authorities for the arrest of Borglum and his superintendent, Captain Jesse C. Tucker, both of whom are charged with malicious destruction of property. Early today neither had been located.

In addition to the warrants, a suit seeking to recover $50,000 from the sculptor was on file today in DeKalb county superior court. That, it was said, was the value of the property destroyed.

Mrs. Borglum, wife of the artist, issued a statement declaring her husband owned the models and data, had copyrighted them and unquestionably had the right to destroy them if he chose.

Senators Flee Gerrymander

Six Indiana Senators Go to Ohio to Prevent Vote on Bill Affecting Congressional District—Republican Leaders Seek Their Prosecution.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 26.—Republican leaders in the Indiana Senate, where all but one member of the Democratic minority "struck" to prevent action on a "gerrymander" measure sponsored by the Republicans, said today the matter would be placed before the Marion county grand jury in an effort to indict the senators who fled to Ohio.

Six Republican senators were to appear before the grand jury as witnesses this morning.

Since the fleeing senators have committed no felony, Republican leaders said they doubted if extradition from Ohio would be asked.

Headed by Senator Joseph M. Cravens, minority floor leader, thirteen of them chartered a bus here late yesterday and went to Dayton, Ohio. Three more Democratic senators who were unable to join the fugitives because of illness, were understood to be ready to leave for Dayton today.

Senator Fred M. Deckerman, of Indianapolis, acting as attorney for the Republican majority, said each of the Democratic senators who fled was liable to a fine of $1,000 for breaking a quorum and impeding course of the Legislature. The measure which caused the minority senators to desert the Senate chamber would have transferred Lawrence county from the third to the second congressional district, which the Democrats contend would assure the Republicans a majority in the latter district.

An ultimatum from the Democratic members that they would withdraw from the Senate until the measure was withdrawn was delivered shortly before the party left Indiana. Republican forces are now determined to press the measure to passage in view of the course taken by the Democrats.

Ponzi acted as his own attorney. He took the verdict calmly.

Mrs. M. J. Michael Died Today

Wife of Kingston's Superintendent of Schools Dead at Family Home on Maiden Lane—Long Active in Municipal and Social Life of City—Funeral Monday.

Mrs. Hattie B. Michael, wife of Superintendent of Schools Myron J. Michael, died this morning at the family home, No. 44 Maiden Lane, after a long illness. In the death of Mrs. Michael the city has lost one of its representative citizens, who was long active in the municipal, social and club life of the city.

Last summer while at the Michael summer camp in the Adirondacks, Mrs. Michael was seized with a stroke, from the effects of which she never fully recovered. When she had regained sufficient strength to make the homeward journey she was brought back to Kingston, but had been confined to her home since that time.

Her activities outside of her home life were many and varied. In the years that preceded the adding of the Nineteenth Amendment to the Constitution she took an active part in forwarding the work of equal suffrage, and was one of the organizers of the movement in this city and Ulster county.

Her activities were recognized first by the leaders of the local Democratic party, and she was appointed a member of the board of health by Mayor Roscoe Irwin and held the position of commissioner under the changing administrations until her last term of office which expired on March 31, 1924. At that time she was not reappointed by Mayor Morris Bloch because of her illness and inability to perform the duties of the office.

While a member of the board of health she proved one of the most efficient commissioners that had ever served the city. She was a member of the more important board committees, and was ready and willing at all times to personally investigate any complaint regarding health conditions that were brought to her attention.

She devoted a considerable portion of her time to the work of the board of health, and for that reason she was regularly reappointed to serve on that board by whatever administration was in control at the expiration of her term of office. She also attended the many state health conventions and devoted considerable study to health problems, and her study of health conditions in Kingston proved of great value in formulating many of the health policies inaugurated here.

Mrs. Michael was a woman of sound convictions and believed thoroughly in personal investigation of complaints of health conditions. It was while she was serving as a member of the health board, under the Canfield administration, that she was sworn in as a special policeman, the first in the city's history, but she was never called upon to use her authority in making an arrest for any violation of the sanitary code of the city.

In addition to her duties as a health commissioner Mrs. Michael found the time to devote herself to the club life of the city. She was for many years an active member of the Monday Club and Witkopy Chapter, D. A. R.

She also had served the Federation of Women's Clubs of the city as its efficient president.

Her varied activities brought her into close contact with all walks and conditions of life in the city, and she made a host of friends by her genial nature, and her sound judgment in all matters pertaining to municipal and social affairs.

In politics she was a Democrat and the Democratic candidate for member of assembly one year, but as she was a woman of wide vision her sole thought in her municipal activities were to advance the best interests of the city, irrespective of any political party. She was also greatly interested in the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to her many outside activities she yet found the time to devote herself to her home, and her home life was ideal. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Herbert L. Michael of Rochester, N. Y., and William Whipple Michael of Pasadena, California, and two sisters, Mrs. Emma Peck of Burtonsville, N. Y., and Mrs. Nellie J. Cool of New York city.

The funeral will be held from the late residence on Maiden Lane on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, interment in Witkopy cemetery.

ELLENVILLE BOY STILL IN DANGER AT AMHERST

John Smiley Lathrop, of Ellenville, Amherst College Junior, who attempted to commit suicide Monday night by taking poison and after-ward throwing himself in front of an automobile, was said at the college infirmary Wednesday to be not yet out of danger.

It was said that several more days would be required to determine how much of the poison had been absorbed by his system. Lathrop had suffered a nervous breakdown, said to be due to overwork.

River Ice Will Soon Move Out

Ice is Very Porous Off Kingston Point—Ice Fields at Catskill Still Holding—Navigation Between Poughkeepsie and New York May Start Saturday.

If present weather conditions continue it is expected that it is only a question of a short time when the ice fields between Kingston and Poughkeepsie will break up and move on down the river. The ice fields in this section are very porous. The Catskill Mail on Wednesday stated that there had been no movement of the ice opposite that village as yet, although the ice is weak and there are large holes in certain places. River men say the condition is such that the ice may move out at any time.

There was a heavy movement of ice down the river to a point a mile below New Baltimore on Tuesday. This probably was caused by the ice being broken up by the recent high water at and below Albany followed by thawing weather. This movement was checked by the firmness of the ice below New Baltimore.

It is expected that navigation between New York and Poughkeepsie will be officially opened on Saturday when the steamer Poughkeepsie will make the trip from New York to Newburgh and will probably come all the way through to the Bridge City.

Musical Night Greatly Enjoyed

Musical Program Over WDBZ Wednesday Well Received—No Sunday Vesper Service—Willard Night Next Wednesday.

One of the most pleasing programs ever broadcast from Station WDBZ, Ulster County Council, Boy Scouts of America, was heard by radio operators Wednesday evening. The number of congratulatory telephonic communications received at the local studio during the evening were much larger than on previous occasions.

Calls for encores were numerous Wednesday evening, and those taking part graciously consented to respond. Miss Marie A. Ferrill accompanied the soloists on the piano during the program and also rendered a group of piano selections. Miss Ferrill's playing was well received and greatly appreciated.

The group of solos rendered by Miss Mildred Messinger were very rich and greatly enjoyed. Scotch songs by "Jolly" Jack Roblou again made a big hit with radio fans in the city and county. Roblou has rendered songs a number of times at the local station and his popularity is increasing.

The other numbers on the program, which included old time ballads by Leon Carey, Spanish and Italian songs by Max Zuniga, and popular songs by John Rowland, completed a most delightful program.

No Service Sunday.

The series of Sunday vesper services which are being radio-cast from Station WDBZ, will not be held Sunday, March 1. Immediate repairs to the local station necessitates the postponement of the Sunday services.

Willard Night.

On Wednesday evening, March 4, "Willard Night" will be the program broadcast from Station WDBZ, in charge of Frank L. Brown. The program, which promises to be very pleasing, will include the following: 8 to 9—Songs of yesterday, by Zucca's Orchestra. 9 to 9:30—Vocal selections. 9:30 to 10:30—Songs of today. 10:30 to 12—Dance music.

LaFollette May Seek Court's Aid

Insurgent Republicans Contemplate Injunction Proceedings to Prevent Being Ousted From Party by Regular Republican Majority.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The federal courts may be called upon to demand the legality of the ouster order by the Republican leadership of the senate against the LaFollette insurgent bloc, it was learned today.

The LaFollette group is contemplating an appeal to the courts for a writ of injunction against the ouster proceedings. The insurgents involved are Senator LaFollette, Republican, of Wisconsin, and his followers, Senators Brookhart, Republican, of Iowa, Ladd, Republican, of North Dakota, and Frazier, Republican, of North Dakota.

In the face of this threat, the Republican committee on committees is going ahead with plans to bar the insurgents from all further senatorial service as Republicans.

Communications have been sent to each of the insurgents asking them whether they desire to be assigned as independents.

None of the insurgents has as yet replied to the inquiry.

The insurgents meanwhile consider filing a suit in the district of Columbia supreme court, asking a restraining order against the Republican majority. If such a suit is filed, the insurgents will charge the Republican majority is depriving them of their rightful emolument of office without due process of law.

Joint Committee Rejects Gas Tax

Bills Providing for Gasoline Tax of Either One or Two Cents Opposed in Report to Legislature—Favor Joint Operators' License.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Feb. 26.—In a report submitted to the legislature, the joint executive committee on motor vehicles rejected the Goodrich and Lord bills proposing a tax on gasoline.

"We feel it would be a serious mistake to discard a tax system that is yielding satisfactory revenue, without any protest for any new system until it can be definitely established as to the amount of revenue the new measure will produce," the report said.

"We appreciate the gasoline tax has merit, but desire to give the entire matter further detailed study before making any recommendation as to its adoption."

The bill sponsored by Assemblyman Goodrich, Republican, of Westchester, would have imposed a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline and reduced the automobile license fees to a flat rate of $3. The bill introduced by Assemblyman Lord, Republican, of Chenango, proposed a one cent tax, the money to be used for road improvement.

The report urged the passing of a bill providing for a joint operator's license. This would permit motorists between 16 and 18 in rural districts to operate cars. The present law prohibits any person under 18 from operating an automobile anywhere in the state.

Assemblyman Hackenbush, Democrat, of New York, filed a minority report, protesting against the joint operator's license bill.

"I feel that the present age of 18 at which licenses are granted, is more compatible with the safety, both of the driver and the pedestrian, who must necessarily use public highways," Hackenbush said.

ADD $10,000,000 FOR EDUCATION

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Feb. 26.—Members of the state board of regents, at a meeting here tonight, are expected to approve the proposal of the Republican leadership of the Legislature to add $10,000,000 to the annual amount the state now pays toward education. This will be the first meeting of the board to be attended by Roland S. Woodward, of Rochester, and Robert W. High, of Queens, recently elected regents by the Legislature.

Unless complications, of which there is no present indication, set in the work of excavating for the foundation for the Governor Clinton Hotel will begin as soon as the frost is out of the ground. This, if the groundhog has been at all his old reliable self this year, should be not long after the middle of March.

Local men have been asked to figure on the work, either separately or in conjunction with the laying of the foundation and any other local man who wants to submit figures may obtain the details by communicating with George E. Lowe, the resident architect. Only he must move fast, as it is expected that the figuring will begin early next week. In the meantime, as soon as the bids are all in, the steel will be bought so that there will be no waiting for it.

There will be 26 distinct sections in the work and materials and any person may bid on any one or more of these, as he desires. Already local men have offered to bid on the excavating and other local men say they will bid on the excavating and foundation work. The storm today is all that prevented E. W. Hathaway, civil engineer and surveyor, definitely and officially staking out the site.

All these things developed Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the building committee of the Kingston Community Hotel Corporation, which was also attended by Col. Bell and Capt. Bobo, of the American Hotels Corporation, and Mr. Moore, of the J. G. White Company. Within five minutes of the close of the meeting Mr. Moore was inviting local contractors, by telephone, to bid on the excavating and foundation work, and Mr. Hathaway had been summoned and directed to set the construction stakes at once.

The first business of the meeting was to reject all bids previously received, it being considered that the work could be done at a lower price by awarding it in separate contracts, small enough to be handled by local men, under proper supervision. An offer by the J. G. White Company to furnish this supervision and also the plans and specifications separated into 26 contracts, for either five per cent on cost or five per cent on $325,000 was considered and the latter proposition accepted. This five per cent is in addition to the seven and one-half per cent previously agreed upon for architect fees. A new contract to pay approximately $41,000 for all of the work done and to be done by the J. G. White Co. was entered into.

The 26 contracts on which bids will be asked at an early date are as follows:

- Excavation.
- Foundations.
- Fireproof Floors.
- Joint Floor and Roof Construction.
- Interior Terra Cotta and Gypsum Partitions.
- Structural Steel.
- Ornamental and Miscellaneous Iron.
- Marble and Slate.
- Tile.
- Terrazzo.
- Cut Cast Stone.
- Metal Furring, Lathing and Plastering.
- Sheet Metal and Roofing.
- Carpentry.
- Glass and Glazing.
- Fireproof Doors and Windows.
- Weather Strips.
- Painting and Decorating.
- Plumbing.
- Heating and Ventilating.
- Elevators.
- Electrical Work.
- Metal Partitions.
- Store Fronts.
- Bathroom Accessories.
- Finish Hardware.

KINGSTON, N. Y., FEB. 26, 1925.

Ellen Terry—now "Dame of the British Empire" by the grace of King George—is said to have been in high spirits and to have suffered less from her infirmities since the honor was conferred. A pity the King did not remember the great and aging actress sooner.

The governor of Colorado has requested the legislature of his State to pass a law prohibiting the use of wine for sacramental purposes, and no doubt there are many who will gladly hail this as the beginning of the end in spite of the supposed safeguards of the Constitution.

A St. Louis man stole a 10-cent bottle of nail polish from a woman shopper and got a sentence of ten years in the penitentiary. The law has been harder on the small thief than the big one in more countries than one. Victor Hugo no doubt had plentiful basis for his hungry Jean Valjean who stole a loaf of bread and spent 19 years in the galleys.

Why is the country overburdened with a multiplicity of laws? C. G. Pitney of Nebraska indirectly furnishes a large part of the answer as follows: "When I came to the Legislature I did not intend to introduce any bills, but others were introducing them every day, so I got 'the fever, too. So, when somebody handed to me the bill closing moving picture houses on Sunday, I introduced that."

Another court has held that if a friend or acquaintance offers you a "lift" in his automobile, and while he is driving there is an accident in which you are hurt, you can sue him for damages and even collect them. But if you are what we call a gentleman you are not likely to do anything of the sort. If you are wise, however, you will not accept a "lift" unless you are sure of the driver's capacity.

WE HAVE OUTGROWN IT.

Beyond the disappointment of a small group of Washington hotel proprietors and the owners of window space along Pennsylvania avenue there will be general approbation throughout the land of the Coolidge determination to make the coming inauguration as simple, as dignified and as characteristic of the men about to enter the highest offices within the gift of the Republic as it is possible to do.

In bygone years, when America was young and crude and only potentially important in the world at large the entrance into the White House by a new president might well be the chance for riotous jubilation. It furnished an opportunity for the faithful to get their enthusiasm "off their chests." It gave occasion for indulgence in what Californians will tell you is "the carnival spirit."

All America let off steam and gentlemen with two gallon beaver hats and double-breasted frock coats could march from the Capitol to the White House twirling red, white and blue umbrellas, important for once in their lives, if never again.

We have outgrown showy, gaudy, jazzy inaugural ceremonies just as we outgrew slavery, free silver mania, gaslight and embroidered suspenders.

RUSSIA BUYS FLOUR.

Those nice soft-voiced sympathetic folks who exert a feeling of congeniality with the murder masters of Moscow while dwelling in luxury and an atmosphere of tea and cigarettes and who fancy calling themselves Father Bohemians will probably be able to furnish an explanation as to why Russia, the greatest wheat producing area in the world, should be buying Canadian flour this winter.

Twice, in the seven years of Red rule at Moscow, has Russia been compelled to import breadstuffs to meet the emergency of famine. It was announced last week that $12,000,000 worth of wheat flour, 1,250,000 barrels had been purchased through Toronto for Russian account.

It will require 145 trains of cars to transport the flour to New York and 22 ships to carry it across the Atlantic to the shores of Moscow.

would be quite as logical for Wilkes-Barre to be buying coal in Illinois, or for Tulsa to be entering the market for petroleum at Tampico.

A lot has been said about the economic theories of Communism but every time the world is called upon to observe Marxian extremism in action it gets a most unpleasant jolt.

TREATING A "COLD."

It is interesting to see a common cold travel through a school room or household.

Most frequently it starts from a "running nose," and then anything is liable to follow from it.

A certain percentage will travel down to the chest, and set up a bronchitis, perhaps a broncho-pneumonia, or even pneumonia.

Unfortunately no one has been able to tell us just what causes a "cold."

Our laboratory research men have looked in vain for some special organism that can be isolated, and shown to be the cause.

That someone else in the school room or home brings in the cold and sends it on on its "rounds," only proves that a cold can be passed along from one person to another.

On the other hand many sufferers with a cold have not been outside their own home or premises, so that all colds cannot be blamed on someone else.

Now is it possible for a man to "take" a cold who is in good physical condition, eating and sleeping well, and taking regular exercise?

Yes, it would seem that a cold can invade many such individuals. However, the point here is that it doesn't "hang on" as long, doesn't usually go down on the chest. He is usually free of it in two or three days.

However there is one factor that enters into this matter of catching cold, and that is the sudden changes of temperature that are a part of every winter climate. I refer particularly to going into a hot atmosphere without proper ventilation, where many people are gathered together. It would appear that this sudden change in temperature, with perhaps the impurity of the air, is one of the ways that colds are started.

Further, there is no question but that the chilling of the body, the chilling of the blood, really is a big factor in helping to produce colds.

Your blood corpuscles do two things, the red ones carry food to, and waste away from, every part, and the white ones try to prevent any infection or poisonous matter affecting the system.

Now these corpuscles can't work properly if they are chilled. Thus the food carrying job and waste removing job, and also the infection fighting job, can't be done properly, and the cold gets a chance to invade your system. Strict attention to your diet, making it light but wholesome, and also strict attention to the intestine, will make a great difference to the length of time the cold will remain with you.

Usually a day or two lying right in bed in a well ventilated room, is the best method of making a quick, successful fight against a cold.

WIRELESS.

Twenty years ago today, February 26, 1905, when wireless telegraphy was still in its infancy, what was then considered a marvelous feat was accomplished, when wireless communication was established between Key West, Fla., and Chicago, and between Key West and a steamer 200 miles east of New York.

These feats, widely commented upon at the time, may be said to have marked the transition stage of the wonderful Marconi invention, from the experimental stage to the practical.

THE FLIGHT FROM ELBA.

The people of the little Mediterranean island of Elba will observe today the anniversary of one of the two great events which made Elba forever memorable in history.

The first of these events was the arrival of the deposed Napoleon, the second his departure. It is just 110 years ago today, February 26, 1815, that the great Corsican boarded a ship and sailed away for France, there to enact that great drama of the "Hundred Days" which ended in defeat and disaster on the bloody field of Waterloo.

Elba, a tiny island, sixteen miles long, remains today much as it was during that period of nine months and 22 days when Napoleon ruled the island.

When the Powers bestowed him on Elba they generously gave him an annuity of two million francs and a bodyguard of a thousand men, permitting him to retain the title of "Emperor." At Elba he had five palaces, the education of the here-foreshipping people and a mimic state to rule over but he spent most of his time pondering over past glories, and even the beautiful Pote. Countess Walewska, with whom he had been infatuated in happier days, failed to arouse the Emperor from his dependency, and after she had been with him a couple of days he ordered her deported from his kingdom.

The people of France had in the meanwhile become heartily tired of the despotism of their restored king, and the soldiers plotted openly for the their beloved Little Corporal. In February, Fleury de Chaboulon, who had been an auditor in the French council of state, visited Elba and begged the Emperor to return to France.

Napoleon had considered such a project for months, and had purchased four vessels, and rallied about him his favorite veterans of the body-guard. Chaboulon's report convinced him the hour was ripe to strike, and with the genius that was him a hundred battles, the genius for quick decisions and prompt action he lost no time in completing preparations. On the night of February 25, he gave a final ball at court, and while his mother and sister directed the festivities, Napoleon left the gay assembly and hastened to the docks where his ships were waiting. As the sun came up, the flotilla, with 900 men on board, put to sea and the Corsican gazed for the last time on the fading shores of Elba.

After three days at sea, the bold "Inconstant," Napoleon's flagship, reached the Bay of St. Jean, near Anzio, and his ardent followers rushed ashore crying "Vive L'Empereur."

It was a cry that was soon taken up all over France, everywhere the little man in the faded uniform was greeted with a continuous chorus of cheers, and all his old veterans flocked to his standard.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

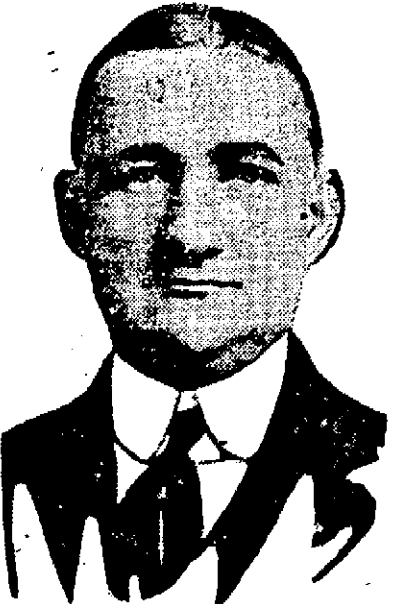

(Copy for this Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

COLORADO'S TYPE OF SOLDIER BOYS

John Charles Vivian, attorney of Golden, Colo., now commander of the Colorado department of the American Legion, got tired of governmental red tape during the war. He decided to do a little unraveling himself. He had been under consideration for a commission as major in the judge advocate's department. But the matter hung fire. The commission did not come.

So one day he enlisted as a private in the marines. On the same day that he closed up his law books, his younger brother, Chauncey H. Vivian, then editor of the Boulder (Colo.) News-Herald, dropped the editorial shears, jabbed the brush into the paste-pot and enlisted also—as a private in the marines.

The brothers served together, the younger brother as a private in the squad of which the older was corporal.

John Charles Vivian.

They were discharged together. Later on they were during the same year commander of their respective posts of the Legion.

The new department commander has been chairman of various departmental committees. He has been alternate, national executive committee-man for Colorado and chairman of the rehabilitation committee for District 11. Mr. Vivian, who was born at Golden in 1887, was a newspaper reporter while he was studying in the University of Colorado from 1906 to 1911. Then he became state editor of the Denver Times in 1911-1912. He received the degree of Bachelor of Laws from the University of Denver in 1913.

Since his graduation he has held various civil offices. He was special counsel to the city attorney of Denver in 1913-1914. He was federal food administrator for Jefferson county in 1918. He later became city attorney of Golden and county attorney of Jefferson county.

Will Seek Amendment to Compensation Act

Declaring that the provision of the adjusted compensation act is unjust which requires a wife, child or parent of a deceased veteran to show dependency at the time of the veteran's death in order to collect the compensation in case the soldier had not filed application for insurance, officials of the Wisconsin department of the American Legion will launch a campaign to have the law amended.

Under the present law, if a veteran dies before filing a claim for insurance, only a wife, child or parent can collect in the order named and the claimants are required to show that they were dependent upon the veteran at the time of his death. Efforts will be made to have the law changed so that the three classes of claimants can collect regardless of dependency.

Not a Kick!

"I just stopped in to tell you," began the man at the complaint desk of the gas company. "That my gas stove blew up yesterday."

"Tell your troubles to a plumber," growled the surly clerk. "That's no fault of ours—you got no kick here."

"Oh, I'm not kicking," replied the customer cheerfully, as he opened the door. "Only I thought I'd tell you that your blamed old slot meter back-fired at the same time, and I haven't been doing anything but pick up silver quarters all over the cellar ever since. Good day!"—American Legion Weekly.

Cleaning Up the Mess

Brown, during the absence of his wife, was giving a stag party. Bottles, dishes and cigar butts were scattered about in profusion. At the height of the revelry Brown was called to the door, and came back with a telegram in his hand.

"Tough," he cried in consternation. "It's from my wife. She'll be home in an hour. What'll we do?"

There was a moment of stunned silence and then Smith jumped up. "I have it!" he shouted. "Let's burn the house down!"—American Legion Weekly.

Ancient Microscope

The first microscope patented in England, in 1742, was made by George Knibb, and is a remarkable specimen of eighteenth-century work. Only one other example is known, and this is at the Science Museum, South Kensington.

GREGORY ZINOVIEFF

Gregory Zinovieff, one of the ultramarxists which assumed the rule of Soviet Russia following the death of Nikolai Lenin, is facing the prospect of being overthrown by those who followed his plans for a revolution. His enemies in the Russian Government declare his constant call for revolt is embarrassing to Russia's plans for establishing friendly relations with European Powers.

LOVE TRIANGLE MAKES FATHER TIME GROGGY

Wife, Aged 99, Has Husband Arrested, Aided by Daughter, 66.

Des Moines.—A love triangle which makes Father Time look foolish was brought to light in the Municipal court in Des Moines the other day.

John Diggins, forty-one years old, a husband seemingly caught between the devil and the deep blue sea of too much romance, and two flappers whose respective ages range from cradle to the grave, played the principal roles.

Diggins was haled into court at the instance of his ninety-nine-year-old wife, Ellen Diggins, and his sixty-six-year-old daughter-in-law, Louise O'Brien, on a charge of threatening to commit a public offense after he is alleged to have deserted the two women for a twenty-two-year-old girl whose name was not revealed. He was held for trial and committed to jail in default of $300 bond, where he declares he will spend his time singing the "Too Many Mamma Blues."

Ninety-Nine and Bobbed.

Still vigorous despite her ninety-nine years, Mrs. Diggins violently shook her bobbed gray locks when asked if she still loved her errant husband. "I am through with him," she declared. "There are plenty more men in the world."

Diggins admitted at the city jail that he had been "driven to drinking canned heat" through the intensity of his emotional affairs, "as," he philosophized, "often happens in the case of men who include women in their business."

Haled into Court.

He denied, however, the allegations made by his wife and daughter-in-law. He said that he had had nothing to do with other women, but that his wife had often "stepped out" on him. "They don't get too old to run around," he said.

A Lass of Ninety-Five.

There was some divergence in the stories told by Diggins and his wife regarding the cause of the matrimonial bark since their marriage. She stated that they became wedded four years ago at the close of a whirlwind courtship when she was but ninety-five years old. This Diggins denies, declaring that the wedding occurred two years ago and that he was forced into the agreement by his wife's son and daughter-in-law. "I never loved her and now I am through with her for good," he declared.

Mrs. Diggins alleges that her husband left her about a month ago, taking a quantity of her clothes and other belongings which he gave to his youthful sweetheart.

Diggins said he left because he could no longer stand her abusive treatment of him. "Once she got mad and broke up a brand new cook stove and at another time she had me arrested for shooting firecrackers in my own house," he said.

Iron Splinter Drawn From Eye by Magnet

Berlin.—An iron splinter, one millimeter long, was recently removed from the eye of a locksmith with the aid of a gigantic magnet. The splinter had been in the patient's eye for three months before it could be located. Eleven sittings, in each of which the splinter, in a remote corner of the eye, was brought forward a little farther, were necessary to complete the operation.

Doctor Panderborn, the oculist in charge, was particularly concerned about removing the splinter, as the locksmith had lost one eye 30 years ago through a similar mishap. The experiment with the magnet was regarded as having little prospect of success, but it seemed to be the only alternative to complete blindness.

Pioneers Wooden Leg to Get Coal and Food for Family

Wichita, Kan.—A little old man, broken and bent, hobbled into a pawnshop during the recent cold spell and after shaking the snow from his threadbare coat, called a clerk to him. Producing his knuckles on one of his legs—a wooden one—he asked how much.

Seven dollars was offered.

"Not enough," the old man replied. "I must have $10. My family is suffering. We need coal and food."

After arguing back and forth the wooden leg, valued at $20, was wrapped and turned over to the pawnbroker who gave the man $5 and a crutch.

Deer on Main Street Captured by Crowd

Vancouver, Wash.—A two-point buck deer was captured alive on Main street here recently.

The deer was ambling up the street from the banks of the Columbia river when several persons gave chase. He dashed down an alley, entered an abandoned building and leaped through a window, then jumped a high fence and started back toward the river. The pavement was wet and the buck slipped and fell several times, finally crashing into a fence with his horns so entangled that he was held fast. Four soldiers from Vancouver barracks took the deer to the reservation.

FORTUNE FOUND IN SHACK OF MISER

Eccentric Recluse Lived Frugally for Years.

Broken Bow, Neb.—Officers acting under orders of the Probate court uncovered a miser's hoard recently when they burned into a small steel safe found among the effects of John W. Conley, an eccentric character who has lived alone for years in a little shack on the outskirts of the city. The existence of the safe had never been disclosed to any of the few who had visited Conley in recent years.

No combination was found, and an acetylene torch was applied. In the safe was found $2,000 in gold and $4,600 in ragged currency and $500 in Liberty bonds. Conley also left a valuable farm near Ansley and a seven-acre suburban tract adjoining the city. It was while searching for a will that the safe and the money were uncovered.

Conley had lived in the county for years, quitting farm life 15 years ago and retiring to a shack. He never bought any luxuries and few necessities. The only time he mingled with his fellows was when taxpaying time came, and he could engage in a good grumble.

His wife died years ago and the three sons and one daughter long ago left home.

The man's shack was filled with books, magazines and newspapers he had collected. The few who ever talked with him found him to be a man of unusual learning and well posted on current affairs.

Wife's Eight Years of Waiting Is Rewarded

Baltimore, Md.—The return of W. Newton Smith, once prominent in business here, and the faith of his wife that he would come back, are topics of social circles.

Smith, a member of one of Maryland's oldest families, disappeared eight years ago when he was president of the Baltimore Badge and Novelty company.

A country-wide search proved fruitless. After months hope of his being alive was abandoned by all except his wife, who relinquished her handsome residence and retired to a small hotel.

A few days ago her confidence was rewarded when word came that Smith was on his way back to claim her. They have gone to Detroit to start life again.

According to friends, Mrs. Smith told acquaintances her husband was a victim of amnesia and did not find himself until he had established a business in Detroit.

The past life in this city came back like a vision, she declared, and the years of loneliness were forgotten in the joy of reunion.

Ex-Soldier, Listed Dead, Found by His Red Hair

New York.—Anthony Iselin is red-haired, was born on Christmas and like his two brothers, is fond of electrical work. Because of this he was found in Pasadena, Cal., by a brother living in Elizabeth, N. J., who read a description of him in an electrical magazine.

When he left high school and went to France to fight in 1917, the family lived in Newark. Later they received notice from the War department Anthony had died in battle in the Argonne forest.

Then the family moved to Elizabeth. Anthony could not trace them to their new home, so he went out West.

Joseph, a brother, read of an electrical wizard who celebrated Christ's birthday and his own at the same time and had red hair. A telegram verified the conjecture that this was a description of the brother the family had mourned as dead.

Twelfth Night Customs Kept Up in England

Many strange and curious rites and customs have long been connected with the observance of Twelfth night. Twelfth night is the evening before Epiphany, the 6th of January, also called Twelfthday and Old Christmas day.

In England the principal rite of the evening is the cutting of the "bûche cake"—a cake in which a bean is cooked, the finder of which is made the king of the night and the following day.

It was in commemoration of this custom that Robert Baddely, an English comedian of the eighteenth century, who was long a favorite at the Drury Lane theater, made one of the strangest requests on record.

Baddely died in 1791, and in his will he bequeathed his cottage to a theatrical fund, requesting that a sum of three pounds be annually expended on a cake to be cut on Twelfth night, in the Green room of the Drury Lane theater, and divided among the actors and actresses.

Hopping, Skipping, Jumping

If you, Mr. Farmer, will use a sharp pencil in figuring your on-the-farm fertilizer costs, you will hop out of the groove of old ideas and use high analysis fertilizers. You will then discontinue paying for needlessly expensive bags, unnecessary factory work, and excessive freight charges, as well as other unseen costs, and get good fertilizer cheaper.

Will You Figure That Way?

Some of your friends say that you are too much a slave to past custom to make the hop. We don't believe it. In fact, many of our customers are already hopping, skipping and jumping toward lower fertilizer costs through using our higher analysis goods.

Low analysis grades have had their day. They grow good crops, but do not seem to fit in with the higher labor and freight costs of today. Their use makes your plant food cost you too much on the farm.

For example, one ton of our 4-16-4 contains as much plant food as two tons of old-fashioned 2-8-2. Two in one—with one manufacturing expense, one set of bags, one freight in place of two. These costs you save when you demand and receive this bumper grade of Armour's BIG CROP Fertilizer. You can buy much more plant food with the same amount of money you are now spending.

Have You This Habit?

By Margaret Morison

LAURA LITTLE

LAURA LITTLE—Mrs. Augustus Little—was expecting the land lord to call that morning to talk over the question of repairs to the apartment. As the maid-of-all-work ushered him into the front room, Laura's first words were: "Of course I know you won't do anything I ask." Now, the landlord was a good sport, for a land lord, and he had been prepared to be really generous. But his reaction to Laura's words was unaccountable opposition, and he left shortly, after taking the firm position that no repairs were possible that year.

Considerably ruffled, Laura departed for market. It was Saturday and everything was busy, and Laura had to wait like all the other customers at the butcher's. Finally through a mistake some one who had come in just behind her was served first. Laura bristled up to the desk. "You take care of anyone at all," she scolded "before me. I won't stand for such treatment." Whereupon she departed nose in the air—to find all the other shops closed for the week-end.

On the way home she met an innocent but near sighted acquaintance on the street, who passed without seeing her. But Laura was in no generous-minded mood. Muttering to herself that she would show whether she was to be treated with indignity she quickly circumnavigated the block until she again came face to face with her friend. This time Mrs. Little was recognized. But she swept past the outstretched hand in stony silence, leaving a very puzzled lady to wonder if Mrs. Little were a bit unbalanced.

Puffing up the stairs to her walk-up apartment, she passed several persons whom, she decided, looked at her "queerly." As she unlocked her door she heard a crash and went in to find her favorite coffee pot in splinters. Then she knew that her maid, as she had often suspected, was addicted to fits of temper, and upon the spot and without allowing explanation Laura dismissed her. A few minutes later Gus, Jr., came upon the scene and confessed that his Irish terrier had jumped on the table and knocked over the coffee pot. But that did not help much as afternoon wore on and it was time to get dinner all by herself.

She had just successfully burned the soup when her husband arrived, bringing a guest. That was exactly like his lack of consideration for her. Laura burst forth; and Gus, Sr., crept back to the parlor with drooping ears. When the baked potatoes that weren't baked and the scorched eggs and the rest of it finally came on, and a dismal group gathered around the table, Laura took the same attitude toward her husband's friend of suspecting a pre-conceived plan to embarrass her. After dinner the two men went out. Pleading an engagement together, then her son descended to a pal's; finally her daughter left to spend the night with grandmother. And as Laura caught sight of Mike's tall disappearing down the fire escape, she was left alone with only the habit of the child on her shoulder to keep her company.

HIGHLAND

Highland, Feb. 26—Wednesday evening after business session the Daughters of America of this place held a progressive pinochle and other card games. The hall was filled and it was one of the most successful parties ever given in this place both socially and financially. Mrs. Louise Sheeley and Mrs. Philip Schantz attended to all pertaining to card playing. Refreshments of sandwiches of different varieties, also cake, sherbet and coffee found ready sale under the chairmanship of Mrs. Emma Davis and her competent assistants, Miss Emma Patridge, who was the treasurer of refreshments, and Mrs. Graham, who had charge of the tickets. It was late when all left the pleasure place and 2 o'clock in the morning when the ever willing workers left for home. Another big event is being staged "The Hickory Holler School," and the date will soon be given out and no one wants to miss it.

Girl Scouts of this place are out this week making a house to house canvass for raising funds for the organization. Some were at the movies last week for the purpose of putting tags on people. They will hold a food sale on Saturday.

Mr. Brown of Milton has taken over a hotel at the river and is running at at present.

AMERICA EATS UP ITS INCOME

People Spend Fourth for Stuff That Goes Into the Mouth.

New York.—America eats up its income. What people put into their mouths, including tobacco, represents more money than all other expenditures at retail stores combined. Ten years ago one-fifth of one's income was deemed sufficient for food. But the figure has now risen to 27 per cent. And most families, says Mrs. Christine Frederick, founder of the Apperforth House Experiment station at Greenlawn, L. I., spend from 35 to 40 per cent of their income on food. Mrs. Frederick has surveyed the changed American budget for the American Academy of Political and Social Science.

The bill for the entire nation at retail food stores in 1924 was $4,000,000,000, as calculated by Dr. Paul H. Nystrom, head of the Retail Research association. In 1921 this was doubled and is almost doubled again today. Of the total national income of $68,000,000,000, estimated for 1924, according to his figures, almost half goes to retail stores; and of this $35,000,000,000, $15,000,000,000 goes to food stores, $1,700,000,000 to tobacco shops and $1,500,000,000 to dealers in candy and soft drinks.

Spent in Stores.

Almost $8,000,000,000 is spent in clothing stores, $3,500,000,000 on automobiles, $1,300,000,000 in furniture and housefurnishing stores and $1,000,000,000 in jewelry and music shops.

Americans eat more in calories than most other peoples. Alonzo E. Taylor, food expert, puts the American calories average at 3,650 to 3,900 a day. In the United Kingdom the average is 2,800 calories and in Italy 2,500. Our climate is, of course, on the whole, much colder than that of either of those countries and we need more heating food. Ten per cent of the American people are said to eat more than 4,000 calories a day without the hard work that justifies this.

In the last ten or fifteen years hotels and eating places in this country have increased 40 per cent to a total of 125,000. There are $5,000,000 confectionery stores selling 13 pounds of candy a person a year to the people of the United States. This is an increase of 800 per cent in a few decades. Candy and soft drinks represent 6 per cent of the food bill. Before the Civil war a few pounds of sugar a person a year was the consumption. In 1910 it was 79 pounds, now it is 100. But tea and coffee are said to be growing less popular and meat consumption dropped from 181.5 pounds a person in 1900 to 132 in 1917.

Pickles and Diamonds.

The nation's expense account in per capita terms for a year, as reported by the Business Bureau, International, throws light on the requirements and tastes of Americans. For diamonds the American on the average spends annually $2.58. He spends 22 cents for dentifrices, $1.30 on pickles and 18 cents on pens, both fountain and steel. He puts out $1.15 for beer and 6 cents for ink; $3 for ice cream and 90 cents for eggs; $3.75 for toilet soap and $1.10 for books. He spends $27 on joy riding and kindred activities and $1.29 for the work of religion. Five dollars go for jewelry and 15 cents for art works. Eleven cents is invested in health service and 66 cents is spent for coffins. Nine dollars go for perfumery and cosmetics and 32 cents for watches. Ten dollars is spent on public schools and $1.85 is invested in shirts. He spends $45 for luxurious foods and gives 8 cents to the salaries of professors.

Washington Chapel to Get Pew in Honor of the Lees

Valley Forge, Pa.—The Society of Lees of Virginia has presented to the Washington Memorial chapel here a choir pew in honor of the Lees who served in the Revolutionary war and an endowment for maintenance of the chapel choir. The pew is to be of oak, hand carved. On the ends will be carved continental soldiers kneeling in prayer, and on the back will be the coat of arms of the Lee family, with an inscription and the names of the Lees who served in the war. Included in the list are Richard Henry Lee, who offered the resolution that the states should be free; Francis Lightfoot Lee, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and "Light-horse" Harry Lee.

Martinsburg, W. Va.—Sounding of an alarm clock which, by mistake, had been set an hour earlier than usual, was responsible for blocking an early morning fire in the Evers building here. The fire department soon had it under control.

CROWNS AND THEIR TRIMMINGS.

(By Eleanor Gunn)

Politically, crowns may be out of date, but how immensely important they are in the scheme of millinery! They are, for one thing, nothing if not versatile. Some of them are conical and have a truly Tyrolean air; others fold over, omelette fashion; and still others are creased from front to back. Grooves occur, and all sorts of trimming devices are resorted to, from flowers to appliques and inserts.

Most hats just now are of felt, and while it may seem irrelevant, it is none the less interesting to note that even at Palm Beach and Miami, men as well as women are wearing felt hats, instead of the more usual straw. Men also have gone back to Panamas, thanks to their royal sponsorship, and women are inclined to be attracted to Panamas, especially when dyed.

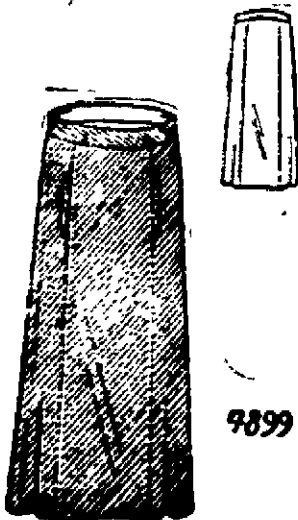

Quilted effects and padding of various sorts are acknowledged favorites among trimmings this year, and are, of course, to be found in millinery, especially such types as bridge the season. Few well-dressed women care to rush into straw hats in March which is one reason—and an excellent one—for felt, being so popular, are seasonless, even ageless, since every one from six to 60 wears them.

Among the newer fashions that have met with social prestige is the pond lily. One finds it balanced on the slender shoulder strap of a smart evening gown, or on the brim of a hat. Violets are in high repute and all sorts of flowers have a chance to bloom this spring and be appreciated as they have not been for several years. Carnations, particularly pink and red ones, are pronounced favorites, and frequently are used singly as a boutonniere even on a ballgown sports dress.

One may prefer to have floral decorations applied, or even painted on one's hat or lapel. (Copyright, 1925, Fairchild)

You don't have to stand over this new kind of soap while it washes. Unaided, it gently loosens and floats out the dirt.

Then you just rinse the clothes snowy white

Now you just RINSE

This new kind of soap does the washing for you

This New Kind of soap, unaided, loosens dirt—leaves you just the rinsing

HELPING imperfect soap—that's what women have been doing on washday.

Rubbing and rubbing to dissolve the soap—rubbing still more to loosen dirt. Hard, dreary work.

Now from the makers of Lux comes a new kind of soap for the family wash—a soap in tiny granules that dissolve quickly, completely. Rinso really does by itself without any hard rubbing all the hard work of loosening dirt. Then you are left with only the lighter work of rinsing the clothes clean. That's why it is called Rinso. Gently, safely, while you rest or do other things, Rinso does the washing.

Washday is SHORTER—because you no longer have to rub soap on clothes and then rub clothes on the washboard. All this time is saved.

Washday is CHEERIER—because you no longer work alone for hours rubbing and rubbing.

Washday is EASIER for you—easier on the clothes. Rinso really does the wonders for your weekly wash that Lux does for fine things.

Does this seem hard to believe? Rinso is now doing all the hardest part of washing in more than a million homes every week. Read what these women say:

"No more standing over the tubs rubbing — now the dirt floats out and I just rinse" . . .

"One day I read about Rinso and decided to give it a trial. I found that I had practically no rubbing to do after I had soaked the clothes over night and followed directions. The spots that were quite dirty came out with one rub and good thorough rinsing. I can now finish my wash in about two hours, feeling just as fresh as though I had not done the washing."

Mrs. J. C. W., Yonkers, New York

"The thorough rinsing brings out everything snowy white" . . .

"I am delighted with the way Rinso gets my clothes clean. I put my clothes to soak at night and in the morning I find them so clean. The thorough rinsing brings everything out white as snow. I am saved so much time and labor—actually it gives me an extra two hours. There is almost never any rubbing except on places that always have to be rubbed a bit because they are so grimy. But even this is loosened by Rinso."

Mrs. E. W., Arlington, Mass.

DIRECTIONS:

Save all that time you used to spend rubbing bar soap on clothes. Put some Rinso in a soap suds. Pour boiling water over it to set all its good cleaning power free. Quickly, completely the tiny granules dissolve into a clear solution. Pour this into the wash water. Use enough to get creamy, lathering suds. Then drop in the clothes. Soak—boil—or use a washing machine as you prefer. Rinso works perfectly any way you like best to wash. Only very soiled places, like cuff edges and rompers knees, may need just light rubbing between your hands after sprinkling them with dry Rinso. Get Rinso today in the big new package or the regular size. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Auvergne Hills Traced to Volcanic Uplifts

Although the hills of Auvergne in France do not rise to the altitude of the Alps or the Pyrenees, they have other characteristics of their own. They were born and molded amid volcanic upheavals. The ice king governs the glaciers, but here the volcanic king reigns, says the Springfield Republican.

The Monts-Dore are one long chain of linked volcanoes, now as dead as the mountains in the moon. Nearly fifty gaping craters may still be counted. Even the Monts Dore and the Chatel hills, whose cone-shaped summits, the highest in Auvergne, stand out so impressively in the distance, are but the time-worn ruins of huge volcanoes.

All the country round about bears lasting traces of its dramatic past: beds of lava hidden by the fresh green turf; dark pillars, like the famous "Orgues de Bort"; granite canyons; old dikes that might be dusty Druid altars; "rocs" and "pays" that might be the portals of a fever-stricken earth—such are the features which give this central region a strange individuality that has been further intensified by the hand of man.

To Exhibit Gun On Wall Street

Battery "A," 156th Field Artillery, will once more endeavor to give the public a chance to inspect a French 75mm. gun which is part of the equipment of the battery. Through the courtesy of the vestry and pastor of St. John's Church this field piece will be parked on Wall street directly in front of the church between the hours of 2 and 9 p. m. on Saturday, weather permitting.

Mayor Morris Block has kindly consented to provide a means of transporting the gun to Wall street and also to have it returned to the armory after the public inspection.

During the time that the piece is on display the public is invited to inspect the gun and ask any questions pertaining to its nomenclature and operation. This is held in conjunction with the recruiting campaign that Battery "A" is now conducting.

It is the desire of the officers and members of the battery that 114 men be enlisted, which is the number that a full peace time battery of Field Artillery are allowed. Up to the present time Battery "A" has made considerable gains in their ranks but a still larger increase is needed to bring the battery where it rightly belongs. Exceptional opportunities for advancement are offered to all eligible young men who will enlist in Battery "A" now. The training that the man gets is physically beneficial, the work in artillery is educational and interesting, and the chances for rapid advancement are exceptional.

Battery "A" now has a total strength that is not second to any battery in the regiment and it is the desire of everyone connected with the battery to bring Battery "A" to the head of the list and this can only be done with the cooperation of every citizen of Kingston, whether young or old.

Her Appetite Triumphed

Max Maretzek, the Impresario, had a large repertoire of stories. Henry T. Finck, the music critic, repeats one of them in his new book, "Musical Laughs." Maretzek on a trip from Cincinnati to Baltimore, feeling hungry, bought a big sausage and a loaf of rye bread. Presently Christine Nilsson, in a seat ahead, made fun of him for eating such awful stuff. Max was really humiliated, but he slyly crowded the remnants of his feast into his pocket and, feeling quite comfortable, went to sleep. About two o'clock in the morning he felt a touch on his elbow. "Hush," said Nilsson, "Don't wake anybody, but do give me that bread and sausage you put in your pocket."

Seek Good Expression

Style is the dress of thoughts; let them be ever so just, if your style is homely, coarse and vulgar, they will appear as such to advantage, and be as ill received, as your person, though ever so well proportioned, would be if dressed in rags, dirt and tatters.—Chesterfield.

LATEST NEWS OF NEW YORK STATE FARM ORGANIZATIONS

Prepared for This Paper by the New York State Farm Bureau Federation, Ithaca, N. Y.

New York Sheep Growers Have Pros- perous Year

New York state farmers who have flocks of breeding ewes find themselves in a very favorable situation at the present time. Prices for wool and mutton are high and the outlook for breeding stock for the next few years is excellent. These relatively satisfactory prices are due to a world-wide shortage of sheep which is especially pronounced in the United States. According to a recent statement from the New York State Sheep Growers' Co-operative association at Syracuse an increase in flocks on New York state farms is expected.

Over 1,600 sheep growers in the state are now pooling their clip through this association. They find it to their financial advantage to have their organization grade their wool and sell it in a large volume direct to the mills. The returns are greater than obtained by selling locally.

This organization sells annually about 600,000 lbs. of wool for New York state sheep men. A few growers in Vermont and Pennsylvania are also participating in this undertaking.

The officers of the sheep growers' associations are advising the addition of a small flock of good sheep on almost every farm though they warn the farmer who is inexperienced with sheep to go slowly in adopting this new enterprise and to guard against mistakes and resulting losses.

New York Farmers Join in Regional Farm Bureau Conference

The New York State Farm Bureau Federation, uniting with similar federations in the Atlantic and North-eastern states has accepted the invitation of the New Jersey Federation of County Boards of Agriculture to meet at Trenton, N. J., Feb. 26 and 27 for the winter Regional Conference of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Agricultural and farm bureau problems common to farmers in the Eastern states will be discussed, including such questions as discrimination in eastern freight rates, the development of co-operative marketing activities and the relation of the Farm Bureau to other agricultural institutions and organizations.

Reports received this week at the executive offices of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation at Ithaca indicate that a large delegation of New York farmers will attend the conference. This state will be represented on the program by one or more speakers.

On the subjects in which the State Farm Bureau Federation is scheduled for an active part is consideration of freight rates now applying upon products sold by farmers and upon supplies which they must purchase, with particular reference to the comparison of freight rates applying on these products for the short or transcontinental haul. Speakers from the American Farm Bureau Federation headquarters at Chicago will discuss national aspects of farm bureau work and its particular application to the Eastern territory.

The second annual report was given by the president, Bruce P. Jones, who lauded the co-operation existing between men in the field and the college of agriculture specialists who inspect their crops from time to time. The big problem during the past year, he said, seemed to be the control of cat rust. He also spoke of the value of the standards upheld by the association as guides to the inspector, adds to the association members in determining the value of their crops, and as aids to the public.

One for Farm Use Exempt from Tax

Shaw Lee, president of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation, who is acting this year as chairman of the legislative committee of that organization, reports that two bills recently introduced in the New York state legislature to fix a tax on gasoline exempt gasoline used for agricultural purposes. This includes tractors, except when the tractors are used on the highway.

Farm to Come

Some day somebody with the right nerve is going to step out and demand an intelligence test of the men who prepare legislative bills. It probably will be the laugh of the century.—New York Telegraph.

Only 4 Honest and Sincere Officials

Rotary Club Visitor Only Impressed by Four of Hundreds He Met While in Russia—Believes Lenin Sincere but Unbalanced.

The weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club on Wednesday was enlivened by the presence of a number of visitors, among them being Col. Bell and Capt. Bobo of the American Hotel Corporation, Mr. Moore of the J. G. White Company, Mrs. Dogart and Miss Barton of the Girl Scouts, Thomas Corby, successor to E. R. Acker of the Kingston Gas and Electric Co., and a postal from John Gregory who is in Florida. Mrs. Dogart explained the purposes, needs, growth, hopes and fears of the Girl Scouts and Col. Bell gave a talk on conditions in Russia.

Colonel Bell was for two and a half years in Russia in charge of American relief work in the Ural district. The population of this district was 9,000,000 and 65 per cent were famine sufferers. Of these 1,600,000 were reached and 559,000 children were fed daily. War, revolutions and soviet government had used up all reserve food and when a drought came, so severe that not even weeds grew, the people starved.

Of the Bolshevik government, Col. Bell said that he met hundreds of officials and only four impressed him as being sincere and honest. The rest were out to make what they could. Lenin he believed to be sincere but mentally unbalanced. These men make all promises with the mental reservation to rescind them at any time. They modified their plans to get capital interested but intend, when capital has aided them, to disregard its rights.

The nationalization of women was planned, but as a concession to world-wide horror, was abandoned and a soviet contract of marriage substituted. Sign a paper and you are married. Sign another and you are divorced. This was also criticized, so the soviet modified it by providing that a person could be divorced only three times in one year.

Some of the sparks from this red menace come here and smoulder. We do nothing. Our patriotic societies have a good dinner once a year, talk about the flag and then forget it for another year. Minorities can rule. In Russia 600,000 radicals rule 160,000,000 through terror of the secret police who have killed 1,800,000 persons for the most trifling reasons. The majority of Russians are not radicals but they have been terrorized into submission. As sovietism fails and the pickings grow less because the country is picked clean sovietism must wane.

In that lies the hope for the future. Col. Bell was not talking for any relief organization or as a preliminary to passing the hat for funds.

No Method Yet Found to Prevent Hailstorm

The United States weather bureau says it is often asked whether there is not some way that hailstorms can be prevented. The answer, replies the bureau, is in the negative. Pathfinder Magazine reports. There is no known way to prevent hail. Much powder has been burned in Europe bombarding the clouds in a futile attempt to avert hailstorms. In some countries an elaborate technique has been developed, requiring the use of special types of mortars, bombs and rockets. In France before the World war it was customary to erect hail rods or "electric Niagaras." These were large copper lightning rods installed on high buildings and steel towers built especially for the purpose. A hundred years ago it was a common practice with Europeans to put up small hail rods, often consisting of poles with metal tips. These were erected in fields, gardens and vineyards. None of these methods, says the weather bureau, had any plausible scientific hypothesis behind them. Any effects ascribed to them were purely imaginary.

Another BlowWednesday Night When a Near Riot Was Started Over Referee Crowley's Decision—Commissioner, Referees and Judges To Go In Shake Up.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Feb. 26.—Legalized boxing in this state underwent another major operation on its prestige last night when a near riot was staged at the new Manhattan Sporting Club after a referee's decision in a lightweight elimination contest failed to strike the popular fancy.The official, Jim Crowley, ruled that Joe Dundee, of Baltimore, had disqualified himself after being knocked down in the ninth round by Charlie O'Connell, of Cleveland, this decision being based on the fact that Dundee started to rise and then changed his mind.He waited for the count of nine but the referee waved him to his corner and awarded the fight to O'Connell. Upon which the crowd rushed the ring and was beaten back by the police.A few more such scenes and boxing, in spite of the great revenue it contributes to the upkeep of the throne at Albany, will be a first class candidate for the official guillotine.
This is particularly in view of the fact that last night's disturbance followed closely upon the heels of the Garfield-Wagner decision, which inflamed all Broadway and started rumors of an official house cleaning.One of the reports today is to the effect that the shake up will effect one commissioner, five judges and three referees.Crowley's verdict was covered by the commission's ambiguous rule which calls for the disqualification of a boxer who goes down without being hit. Dundee had no such idea in mind, merely wishing to take the full benefit of the count, but as matters stood the official made the proper and only decision. Yet Deputy Commissioner Hooker proceeded to overrule his referee and ordered the bout to proceed although a referee is supposed to be in supreme command of everything that happens in the ring.O'Connell then was declared the winner at the end of ten rounds and the customers didn't like that, either.
They stormed their way out into the night, airing their views on boxing in the sovereign state of New York and vowing never to return. They will be back next week.Whether boxing, sustaining shock after shock as it has done in recent weeks, will be able to do likewise, for an indefinite period is open to doubt.LOCAL GAS AND ELECTRIC BOWLERS BEAT POKEETSIEThe bowling match of Saturday, February 21, between Poughkeepsie and Kingston Gas and Electric Companies resulted in Kingston winning by a very small margin. All three games were closely contested and the Bridge City team did very well when it is considered that they have little or no opportunity for practice due to no public alleys in Poughkeepsie.Poughkeepsie.

Bird Believed Extinct.

To biological survey says that the ivory-bill woodpecker is found at the present time in the west and heavy semi-tropical woods of the southeastern United States. The Carolina parquet was found in practically the same regions. It is believed by scientists to be extinct, inasmuch as specimens have not been seen in several years.
When last seen these birds were found in Florida.Today's

William McGowan Is Appointed ArbitratorWilliam A. McGowan, former umpire in the Southern association, has been signed by President Johnson of the American league for 1925. McGowan is the second new arbitrator taken into the league by Mr. Johnson.
H. C. Geise of the International league being the other member.
Both are former newspaper men, as are Umpires George Morlarty and Billy Evans.
In signing McGowan, Mr.
Johnson said he has released
H. F. Holmer.Giants and Yankees Are Promised Big Shake-UpThe Giants are not the only major league team due for a shakeup before the 1925 season gets under way, observes Louis A. Dougher in the Washington Times. It applies to the Yankees, too.The Yankees' pitching staff will come in for the biggest change. That so-called "five-star staff" didn't look so good during the season just ended and Miller Huggins is expected to arrange deals for several of them this winter.Then there is Everett Scott, Whitey Witt, Bob Meusel and Wally Schang, all of whom have about overstayed leave in the metropolis.One of the strongest rumors running around has Harry Heilmann becoming a Yankee, with Bob Meusel figuring in the deal. Heilmann is said to have declared to Cobb that never again would he play ball for the Georgian, even though it meant retirement from baseball altogether.Scott is physically through. He has played wonderful ball for the Yanks, but his legs cannot last forever, and during September he slowed down to a mere walk. Witt's days were numbered when Earl Combs was found in Louisville. When that youngster broke a leg in Cleveland, Witt managed to hang on a bit longer, but he is expected to be shaken off during the winter.
Schang, like Scott, is slowing up rapidly on his feet. A slow catcher lasts longer than a slow shortfielder, but Huggins is searching for his successor, just the same.

Sport Notes

San Francisco possesses the only municipal tennis stadium in the country.More than 30,000 hounds are maintained exclusively for hunting in England.Paavo Nurmi is believed to be the greatest long-distance runner of all times.Ole Jansen, ski champion of Norway, holds the world's record with a jump of 208 feet.Running horses with jockeys in the saddle travel at a rate of almost 40 miles an hour.Minnesota boasts a first-class basketball player in Hecy, a forward.
Most of the Gopher plays are built around him.Two of the best pair of brothers playing tennis are the Kinsey boys, Howard and Robert. They come from the Pacific coast.Helen Wills, women's national singles and doubles tennis champion, is now taking lessons in golf in the Marble Country Club, San Rafael, Cal.The latest game ever played in the major league without either side sev-ing was an 18-inning game between Washington and Detroit, July 16, 1920.John Hartline, captain of the University of Southern California football team, has signed a contract with the St. Louis American league baseball club.Tex Rickard has ruled out radio in future boxing bouts in which he is results seriously harms the financial returns.

Sees Dog Ghosts

Ad Fellows, London dramatic writer, declares he is haunted in his dreams at night by the ghosts of the dogs he has killed. He says the dreams always end with what seems like the tremendous wailing of hundreds of his canine victims. Medical authorities are responding to correct the delusion.EVERY DAY Day in and day out more people are making money by selling and buying things through our Classified Columns — HOW ABOUT YOU?Preparing for
"Y" HexathlonThe dates for the boys hexathlon at the Y. M. C. A., have been set as March 16 to 25th.The membership will be divided into five different groups based on weight classification. Each group will compete in a series of six events and will be graded by a special scoring table. Thus the boy of 80 pounds does not have to compete with the boys of a heavier weight and so has a chance to win honor for himself.The weight classifications are as follows:
80 pounds and under.
95 pounds and under.
110 pounds and under.
125 pounds and under.
All over 125 pounds in unlimited class.The events remain the same for all classes up to the 110 pounds, with the exception of the potato race. The schedules call for a one and three lap potato race for the 80 pound class; a one and four lap for the 95 pound class and a two and five lap for the 110 pound class. The other events are the snap under bar, standing broad jump, running high jump and target throw.The 125 pound' and unlimited classes substitute the eighth shot put and the fence vault for the snap under the bar and target throw and complete in the two and six lap potato race and the three and six lap potato-race according to classification.This contest is a national event.
The records of the boys from the local association are forwarded to New York where they are compared with other associations and prizes awarded.The local association has always succeeded in this event. Last year it captured sixth place and from the interest shown this year indications are that Kingston will be well up on the final test.The local association has arranged with the National Committee to award the National Hexathlon Bouton in bronze to every boy scoring 400 points. The silver bouton will be awarded for a score of 500 points and the gold for 600 or more points.A local medal of a new design will also be awarded to the boy winning first place in his class. Ribbons will also be awarded to boys placing first, second and third in each weight class.Practice is being held daily in these events during the regular boys classes. Weighing in will take place on and after March 1st. The contest is open to all members of the local Y. M. C. A. under 18 years of age.

the Kingston High School varsity basketball team defeated the St.

score of 25-17. This was the second time these teams met on the court this year. The first game, which was played at St. Stephen's, was won by the Saints, 27-11.Wednesday's game was hard fought throughout. The teams were well matched and the outcome of the contest was in doubt until late in the fourth quarter when the Colonial boys made a spurt which gave them the final eight point advantage. The score at half time was a 10-10 tie. Ross Vogt, a former student of the Kingston High School, was referee of the contest and handled the game in fine style.Preliminary to the varsity game

VOLLEY BALL LEAGUE.

Interesting Games Expected Friday Night at Y. M. C. A.Friday evening the Y. M. C. A. court will again be the scene of six games in the popular sport, volley ball.Promptly at 7 o'clock a team representing the First Presbyterian Church will meet a team from the Trinity M. E. Church. On paper these teams are nearly evenly matched, so a series of close games can be expected. Manager Murray of the Presbyterian has promised to have his largest shadow, Bob Murray,
